

THE MISSING MRS. GOODWIN LOCATED THIS MORNING---IS ALIVE AND WELL.

HAS HER OWN REASONS FOR LEAVING HUSBAND

THE MISSING WOMAN IS LOCATED BY A REPORTER OF THE STAR. SHE IS WELL AND IS EARNING AN HONEST LIVING--DOES NOT WISH HUSBAND TO LOCATE HER--HAD A DISAGREEMENT WITH HIM.

Mrs. W. I. Goodwin, who so mysteriously disappeared from her home at 1223 Emma street on the afternoon of November 27, without even a word to her husband or friends, was located this morning by a reporter of The Star. She is well and comfortably housed with friends and is earning an honest living. For private reasons she does not wish her whereabouts to become publicly known. Mrs. Goodwin stated this morning that she left her home on account of a certain misunderstanding with her husband. She affirms that he is acquainted with the cause of her departure, differing from his story. She

LAUKEA REDUCES BROWN'S LEAD

The recount in the election contest was resumed this afternoon in the Supreme Court. The counting of the ballots of the 7th precinct of the Fifth district is being done before Chief Justice Frier the tenth and 12th of the Fifth before Justice Wilder and the eleventh of the Fifth before Justice Hartwell. There will be no announcement until late this afternoon. Laukea made big inroads into Brown's lead of 7 votes this morning. In the sixth precinct of the fourth district Laukea gained 2 and in the seventh of the fourth he gained 2 votes. Making a gain on rejected ballots of 6, which would cut Brown's lead down to 1.

But it is claimed by the Brown people that Brown gained one vote in the count of the seventh precinct, so Laukea's gain for the day was only 5 votes. The contest is being continued this afternoon. The count of the ballots in the Sixth precinct of the Fourth district this morning showed that Laukea had gained 1 over this opponent. The official returns by the inspectors showed Brown 235, Laukea 133, Blank 14, rejected by inspectors 32. The count by Supreme Court resulted as follows: Brown 232, Laukea 131, blank 17, rejected Brown ballots 3 rejected Laukea ballots 2, giving Laukea a gain of 1 vote in this precinct. A discrepancy of 1 vote over the inspectors' returns was discovered but when the court recounted the totals it tallied with the official figures. The result in the seventh precinct showed Laukea a gain by 2 votes. The official returns were Laukea 153 Brown 143, blanks 3, rejected by inspectors 19.

New Bids For Leprosarium Under Pure Food Law

POSTPONEMENT OF THE OPENING OF BIDS SECURED BY THE MERCHANTS' ASSOCIATION.

The Merchants' Association has secured a chance for local contractors to bid on the leprosarium buildings. In response to a cable sent by the Association yesterday to George W. McClellan at Washington, the following cable was received by President Smith this afternoon. "Washington, December 3.—New tender has been secured for February. Plans will be mailed." This means that the opening of bids for the construction of the leprosarium buildings, which was to have taken place at noon today in the office of the Supervising Architect of the Treasury at Washington, has been postponed, and new bids will be advertised for. Local contractors, by the advertisement heretofore made, were cut out from competing because no copies of the plans and specifications for the work had not been sent here. An appeal was made by Jack Lucas and other contractors to the Governor, and he sent a cable but without securing a postponement of the opening of the bids. Yesterday the contractors made an appeal to President George W. Smith of the Merchants' Association, and without waiting for a meeting of the Association the following cable was sent to McClellan: "See Supervising Architect of the Treasury. Have tenders delayed and plans sent." Evidently McClellan acted quickly and effectively, as his telegram shows.

SICK HAWAIIAN KILLS HIMSELF

AOPIHI PUTS 22-CALIBRE RIFLE BALL THROUGH HIS HEAD IN KEWALO THIS MORNING.

Aopihi, a Hawaiian, 37 years of age, married and childless, who has for a long time been sick with liver and other troubles, shot himself to death while sitting in a rocking chair in his hired room at the residence of Police Officer Manuwal in Kewalo at 8:30 o'clock this morning. A 22-calibre rifle was used by the suicide, the bullet entering the right temple and taking its exit by the left temple. Manuwal was apprised of something wrong by the sound of the rifle's discharge and, upon opening the door, beheld the doubled body of his friend in the rocking chair. Dr. Camp has for some time been attending Aopihi. The coroner's jury sits tomorrow evening. The best cup of Hawaiian coffee in the city. New England Bakery and Cafe. Delicious pies and cakes. LOGAN MAY KILAUEA BREAK OUT

J. M. Kealoa, the successful Home Rule candidate for Supervisor from the district of Koolau, may never take his seat on the Board. S. W. Logan is said to be about to file papers with the Supreme Court contesting the right of Kealoa to sit as a supervisor. Logan says that Kealoa was not a resident of the district of Koolau for a period of three months which is required by law. Logan was only defeated by 7 votes and he has engaged W. C. Achi as his attorney. He will decide on Wednesday whether he will file the paper or not. Achi has them ready at present and can file them at a moment's notice. Kealoa has been a resident of Molokai for the past year and is said to have returned here June 25. He registered near the first of September, it is said.
